Discover the joy of reading with our Reading Programme for primary schools where classes will engage in fun and interactive book-based activities tailored by the reader to suit different age groups and ability levels. The programme is a fun and exciting way of providing opportunities for positive engagement with libraries and reading for children and will involve reading excerpts of books to children, book recommendations, creative responses to the stories including drama, drawing, story-writing and arts and crafts. The children will get time to choose their own books as part of the session.

Julianne Mooney Siron has worked with libraries and schools in and around Dublin for nearly ten years, creating reading programmes to encourage children to discover the joy of reading. She is the Director of the Dublin Book Festival, one of Ireland's largest book festivals, established in 2006 to celebrate Ireland's writers and publishers.
