Nuala Hayes is an actor, storyteller, broadcaster and author. Currently an Artist in Residence on the seven islands of West Cork as part of the Arts Council's Creative Places Initiative, Nuala believes that local stories which emerge through Yarnspinning Groups across Ireland, are contemporary versions of the tales at the fireside in days gone by.

EVENTS FOR ADULTS

Let's talk birds and ruffle some feathers

Tues 13 May, 2.00-4.00pm
Studio Theatre, dlr
Lexlcon

Booking via dlr Libraries
Eventbrite

You are invited to celebrate Dublin Climate Action Week 2025 by joining us as we put the spotlight on Ireland's diverse and brilliant bird species. Hosted by DLR's Climate Action, Biodiversity and Libraries Teams, the event will begin with an insightful talk from Anne Murray, dlr Biodiversity Officer, about the interesting birds to be found here in Dún Laoghaire-Rathdown, and how we can protect them. Following the talk, you can enjoy a screening of Birdsong, a poignant documentary that captures the journey of Ornithologist Seán Ronayne from Cobh, Co. Cork, who is on a mission to record the sound of every bird species in Ireland – that's nearly 200 birds!

Whether you're an avid birdwatcher, a nature enthusiast, or simply curious about the natural world, don't miss this opportunity to deepen your understanding of the birds in our local environment. Please note: Children must be accompanied by an adult at all times.

Meeting room, Deansgrange Library

Max 25

To book, email deansgrangelib@dlrcoco.ie or Tel (01) 204 7218

Foxrock, or in Irish, Carrig an tShionnaigh, is in the civil parish of Kill in the barony of Rathdown. It has been recorded in the place names records by Liam Price as 'Clonkeen now generally called Foxrock and this is quite a modern name'. The placenames record notes that it is also called Cnoch Shionnaigh or anglicised as Knockshinna. The old Gaelic area, which Foxrock is part of, was called Clonkeen. This was part of the wide, flat valley, with the ground rising gently towards the ridges of Rochestown Avenue on the east and Brennanstown, Brighton and Torquay Roads above the N11 on the west. The 'Clon' portion of the name Clonkeen tells us that the area was a fertile clearing, a meadow, surrounded by boggy ground, while the 'caoin' element points to a pleasant, gentle, and congenial ambience in the valley. To learn more about the area, join Myles Reid from the Foxrock Local History Club. The group held its first meeting in January 1981 and has been giving talks and having outings since. Over the past 44 years they have covered many local topics and general history of the country around us. More information on their website: foxrocklocalhistory.ie.

Tuning into Nature workshop with Natasha Ariff

Tues 27 May, 11.00am- 1.00pm
Dundrum Library

To book, email dundrumlib@dlrcoco.ie or Tel (01) 204 7720

Although we mostly use sound to communicate, humans are highly visual animals. This workshop with Natasha Ariff, biodiversity and landscape consultant, is both an exploration of soundscape ecology - the study of the entire collection of sounds that are emitted from a landscape – and an invitation to the participants to become attuned to the natural world.

Using film and an audio presentation of bird song, participants are invited to 'turn on their ears' by actively listening. These sounds are explored using words and pictures, thereby providing the tools for the participants to create their own language to describe the magic of nature. Both the act of listening and writing will leave an imprint of the bird sounds on the participants' mind, which hopefully, they will remember the next time they hear them, having now been tuned into nature!

Musical Memories Celebratory

"My dear Stevie: I sent you a little cat filled with sweets a few days ago but perhaps you do not know the story about the cat of Beaugency". James Joyce wrote this story in a letter to his four-year-old grandson Stephen ("Stevie"). It is commonly known as 'The Cat and the Devil' however it is also known as The Cat of Beaugency. This marvellous story has been brought to life by the talented Moonfish Theatre Company.

This school event is part of dlr Libraries Bloomsday Festival 2025, in partnership with James Joyce Tower and Museum.

EXHIBITION PROGRAMME

Guglielmo Marconi and the Waves of Made in Italy: A Journey through the Life and Discoveries of the Inventor of the Wireless Telegraph and the Radio

Tues 15 April – Sun 8 June
Level 3, dlr Lexlcon

On the occasion of the 150th anniversary of the birth of the Italian-Irish scientist Guglielmo Marconi, we are celebrating his genius by recalling some of his extraordinary inventions. This exhibition, organised by the Embassy of Italy in Ireland and the Istituto Italiano di Cultura Dublin with the support of Dún Laoghaire-Rathdown County Council, is curated by the Ministry of Enterprise and Made in Italy of Rome and displays memorabilia objects that tell the story of Guglielmo Marconi's scientific experience, including showcasing transmitting and receiving devices, telegraphs and radios, historical photographs and videos. Alongside the exhibition, we have scheduled some events for families, schools and adults during May. See other listings in this newsletter or our website for details.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

DUN LEARY · KINGSTOWN · DÚN LAOGHAIRE

A visual history celebrating the town's name change in 1920

22 APRIL – 30 MAY 2025

dlr Lexlcon, Haigh Terrace, Moran Park, Dún Laoghaire

What's in a name? A Visual History Celebrating the Town's Name Change in 1920

Tues 22 April – Fri 30 May
Level 5, dlr Lexlcon

As part of dlr Lexlcon's 10th Anniversary, we are showcasing this very popular exhibition which was first displayed in 2020. In 1821 the name Dunleary or Dun Leary was changed to Kingstown in honour of King George IV's visit to this bustling and rapidly developing town. In 1920, it was officially given the name Dún Laoghaire, referring to the original Irish name for Dunleary. In the years following the establishment of the Irish Free State, the use of Kingstown gradually diminished and was replaced in the consciousness of visitors and residents of the town by variants of the name – Dunleary, Dun Laoire and Dún Laoghaire.

dlr Libraries acquired nearly 700 postcards of the Dún Laoghaire-Rathdown area from the sale of the Seamus Kearns Collection of Postcards in 2019. These images form the basis of a publication entitled What's in a Name? Dun Leary – Kingstown – Dún Laoghaire: A Visual History, an accompanying exhibition featuring a selection of these postcards.

Sallynoggin College of Further Education end of year Art Exhibition

Tues 6 – Mon 12 May
Level 4, dlr Lexicon

We welcome this Art exhibition from the students of Sallynoggin College of Further Education. This initiative is of particular interest to anyone wishing to prepare a portfolio to gain entry to Third Level Art Colleges. It presents the work created by this year's students and demonstrates how they have developed their ideas through a variety of techniques.

Cantonese Flower Exhibition

June
Deansgrange Library

This mini-exhibition showcases the vibrant world of Cantonese ceremonial flower plaques — large, hand-crafted floral displays used in festivals, business openings, and community celebrations across Hong Kong. Learn about the symbols, colours, and craftsmanship behind these towering art pieces, and discover how they continue to evolve in modern times.

What to look out for:

- A handcrafted miniature flower plaque
- Archival images of traditional plaques in Hong Kong
- A peek into the meaning behind common decorative elements (like dragons, the phoenix and auspicious phrases)
- Short descriptions in both English and Chinese

Holiday reads from your local dlr Library!

With summer holidays fast approaching, thoughts turn to reading on lazy, hazy summer days. And in dlr Libraries we have your summer reading covered! Our popular short loan collections, Page Turners for adults, and Rapid Reads for children, provide extra copies of popular, hard to get books, without the need to reserve ahead of time. This short loan collection allows loans for 10-days, giving our readers time to enjoy the latest must-have books before dropping them back for the next reader. These books can't be reserved or renewed so do pop in to browse the collection. They are available in all our branches, and coming soon to Stillorgan Library.

And if you are going away and don't want to bring a physical book, dlr Libraries has not one but two online library resources available to provide your holiday reads, and two more just for children. Borrowbox and Libby are both full with the latest must-haves, as well as something to suit all literary tastes, for young and old alike. And for our younger readers, we also have LoTE and Tumblebooks. They are available for free for all dlr Library members. All you need is your library card number and PIN. Details and links for all our services can be found on the e Resources page of our website: <https://libraries.dlrcoco.ie/using-your-library/eresources>
